Dear Andrew Hawryshkewich,

Congratulations on completing the first Linguistically Responsive Classrooms Instructor Series offered by the English as an Additional Language team at CEE, January 28, 2022 - March 11, 2022. For the last six weeks you have:

- expanded your ability to revise and reimagine the language of assignments, assessments and syllabi to be more linguistically responsive;
- built confidence in and awareness of your linguistic efficacy in your classroom and course;
- developed your role as a disciplinary language teacher;
- co-created a community of practice amongst participating faculty;
- refined your contextual awareness of multilingual students at SFU;
- produced and refined a peer-reviewed artifact for your Teaching Portfolio/Dossier

We commend your commitment to your students' learning experience and hope you found the workshop useful in the development of your course and exploration of new teaching strategies. Thank you for your thoughtful contributions to the series and your feedback to peers. We hope you will consider including this achievement in your teaching portfolio and on your Curriculum Vitae under teaching experience.

As for next steps on your teaching journey, CEE looks forward to working with you in the future and welcomes any feedback or suggested offerings (ciddir@sfu.ca). As well, please do not hesitate to contact our EAL team for support at any time.

We wish you continued success in your teaching practice at SFU.

Sincerely,

Dr. Elizabeth Elle

Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Learning and Teaching
